I was driving in the left lane with my seat belt on. About 30 feet from where the accident took place, I saw a vehicle heading into my lane. Swerving, I tried to get over a little thinking his brakes would hit. Next I got hit on my right side which caused me to spin around in the middle of the highway where I was hit again by the same vehicle. This caused me to go through the middle all the way to the right lane of the highway with him next going into a ditch of grass on the side of the highway.

I was in the center lane on 8N driving the speed limit; suddenly a car in the RIGHT lane (perhaps mine was in their blind spot) attempted to change to the center lane. Beeping horn I had to move over toward the LEFT lane - the driver in the far LEFT LANE speeding faster than myself - my front LF light hit his car. Side swipe only!
 A simple
 The driver who was in the far RT Lane sped off from the scene. Did not check to see if anyone was injured.
