Connect WITH Nature

PROGRAM GUIDE April - August 2023

Earth Fest: Celebrate the Earth!

Sat., April 22, 10 AM - 12 PM

Adell Durbin Park, 3300 Darrow Road

Free program for all ages, no need to register

Celebrate Earth Day with us at Adell Durbin park! There will be fun for the whole family including a scavenger hunt and guided hikes at 10:30 and 11:30 AM to explore signs of Spring and marvel at the beauty of nature. We will have representatives on hand from Summit County Master Gardeners, Rubber City Reuse, Summit Soil and Water Conservation District, and City of Stow Urban Forestry to share information. Make seed balls with the Master Gardeners and learn more about the Summit Metro Parks Wild Back Yards incentive program.

The Music of Birdsong: Sorting Out the Singers in the Chorus

Tues., May 16, 7 PM

Heritage Barn at Silver Springs Park
5238 Young Road

For ages 12 and up, registration is required.
$5/person residents, $8/person non-residents.

Learning bird songs can feel a little overwhelming at times, especially when it seems that everyone is singing at once!

Birdsong is music, and the techniques used in ear training and music appreciation classes can provide valuable tools for identification of birds and their repertoire. Join Lisa Rainsong, a professional musician, educator and naturalist as she guides adults and teens ages 12 and up.

To register for this program, visit Stow.Ohio.RecDesk.com, click on programs and search for "Music of Birdsong."

Connect with nature just outside your door. This spring and summer, the City of Stow Parks and Recreation Department and Stow-Munroe Falls Public Library have partnered to present outdoor programs for area residents.

To register for these programs online, visit StowOhio.RecDesk.com, click "Programs," and search for the program title. Questions? Please call the City of Stow Parks and Recreation Department at (330) 689-5100.
