

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The Relay for Life movement began in 1985 and continues today dedicated to helping communities end cancer, as we know it, for everyone. Through funds donated, time given, and raising awareness, our communities are teaming up – virtually and in person – to make a difference; and,

WHEREAS, When we rally together in the fight against cancer, we can accomplish anything; and,

WHEREAS, This year we have 19 teams participating and 125 participants at this relay event; and,

WHEREAS, Relay for Life events are held in many cities, at all times, and may be up to 24 hours with people walking or running, having at least one participant walking at all times reminding us cancer never sleeps. Over 25% of funds raised are from mini relay school events across the country; and,

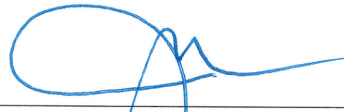

WHEREAS, We are here to show our support and fight for survivors. We all experience different emotions throughout our days and nights just as survivors do during their journey; and,

WHEREAS, The American Cancer Society works tirelessly to help people find support, information, and resources that go beyond treatment and help survivors on every step of their journey.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John Pribonic, Mayor of the City of Stow, thank each and every one of you here this evening raising funds as we continue fighting together to make a difference. “Cancer does not stop so neither do we!”

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Stow, Ohio to be affixed this 17th day of June 2023.

John Pribonic, Mayor
City of Stow
